Dear Supporters,

This is our final letter for 2012. We are truly grateful how the Lord has blessed us and our generous supporters this year.

I have just returned from an amazing trip to India and Nepal. Perhaps the highlight was visiting Sunrise Orphanage. Even though the official opening was postponed due to flooding and rain, it was an emotional experience to see it finally becoming a home after 3 years of much planning, time, challenges, and effort. To watch children who have slept on the floor most of their lives lie on their very own new mattress and not want to get off, show such excitement in having clean wash rooms and toilets, and beam as they climb into their new school bus makes our efforts seem so little compared to the reward on these children's faces. It thrilled my heart to see simple things that we take for granted mean the world to them. I cannot thank you enough for your support and wish each of you could have been there in person.

I also visited Nepal where the Adventist church has just been given registration to allow it to operate schools and orphanages in the country. It was exciting to visit possible locations for the first Adventist school in Nepal. Asian Aid is working with the President of the Nepal field, Pastor Chuck Jensen, to help establish a school.

We are having a special Christmas appeal for the Blind and Deaf Schools along with our "Where Needed Most" fund. Both the Blind School and Deaf School in India have constant needs for specialized books and resources along with building and maintenance necessities. Please pray for these schools and how you can make a difference for them with your financial gift. Also, remember that any donations postmarked by December 31, 2012 will receive a tax deductible receipt for the 2012 tax year (year-end tax-deductible receipts are normally sent out in mid-January).

I, on the behalf of thousands of children and the many needy that Asian Aid represents, truly thank you for your prayers and support in 2012.

Christian regards,

Jim Rennie
CEO Asian Aid USA

Christmas Appeal

Each Christmas we have a special appeal.
This year we have two projects
where we especially ask your help.

Blind and Deaf Schools

We urgently need to raise $25,000 for the Blind and Deaf Schools. These schools are run by Asian Aid in cooperation with the Adventist church in India and need specialized teaching resources, which include Braille books and other classroom materials. Asian Aid has over 300 children in these two schools who come from very needy homes.

Please help them to not only have an education but be provided the resources they uniquely need to succeed.

"Where Needed Most" Fund

Throughout the year we have special requests that come to Asian Aid from our schools and projects in India, Nepal, and Bangladesh. Helping these unforeseen requests are only possible if we have the funds available to meet these needs. Asian Aid is also faced with the basic costs to run the organization and to manage the field work.

Please help us raise $25,000 so Asian Aid can continue to serve in its goal to "help those who need it the most".

Please share your Christmas with "the least of these"

Bringing Hope to the Faces of Mothers in Nepal

Uterine prolapse, a painful and debilitating condition in women where the uterus can protrude out of the body, is easily resolved by a surgery which most poor Nepali women cannot afford. Consequently, these women often suffer their whole lives from both the physical pain and the social stigma it brings.

In our Spring Newsletter, we told you that Asian Aid would be sponsoring Uterine Awareness programs for rural villages in Nepal. From June to September this year, this project was organized through Scheer Memorial SDA Hospital in Banepa, Kavre, Nepal. In village churches, community halls, and schools, programs began with a spiritual health message and prayer. Many in Nepal believe that uterine prolapse is a curse and look down on those in society who suffer from it, so this was followed by explanations of what uterine prolapse is, how and why it occurs, and ways to prevent it. On the second day of the program, the women were evaluated and given appropriate treatment or scheduled for surgery.

In total, 684 women participated in the program, learning valuable information that hopefully will prevent the number of uterine prolapses cases in the future. Of these participants, 169 received treatment for less severe uterine prolapse, and 113 had successful uterine prolapse operations, of which 50 were sponsored by Asian Aid USA. These women were as young as 18 and represented over nine different villages.

Ram Chandra Bhatrarai, coordinator for the program at Scheer Memorial Hospital, thanked Asian Aid for their sponsorship and the success of this program. He stated, “Despite varied tongues, castes, cultures, creeds and prejudices, this has become a medium through which we could reach the interior and un-entered families. We hope and pray that Asian Aid USA will give us more opportunities to do this in other districts to bring hope and happiness to the face of every mother in Nepal.”

Showers and Blessings at Sunrise

Sunrise Home's official opening was scheduled for Sunday, November 4. The weeks before were busy with preparations and last-minute touches on the new dormitory and campus. Excitement was in the air and it was hard for the children to hold back grins of eager anticipation. Sunny skies greeted Angela, an Asian Aid volunteer who came from Montana to plant trees and flowers and landscape the campus into a bright, beautiful home.

Unexpectedly, on Friday, two days before the opening, a huge typhoon hit the east coast of India. Six days of torrential rain caused major flooding, making roads impossible to drive, trains to be stopped, and even the little dry creek behind the Sunrise campus to turn into a wide, rushing river. With much disappointment, the Sunrise opening was postponed. The children will still move in within a few weeks but the opening ceremonies will now take place this coming January.

Amidst the torrential rain were also showers of blessings. Jim Rennie, Asian Aid USA CEO, and Helen Eager, Asian Aid co-founder, were present when the new school bus was delivered and the excitement that filled the students as they scrambled onboard was contagious! Ten acres of the school's land is currently producing a large crop of rice. After it is harvested, another crop of half corn and half rice will be planted. In addition, each dormitory room (which sleeps six children each) will have their own garden plot next to the dormitory where they can learn agriculture and tend their own plants.

Although "rain drops round us were falling", it was truly the "showers of blessings" that we needed and received. Thank you to the many individuals who have helped make this new home a reality for the Sunrise children. Please keep it in your prayers.

*There shall be showers of blessing;
This is the promise of love;
There shall be seasons refreshing,
Sent from the Savior above.*

*Showers of blessing,
Showers of blessing we need:
Mercy drops round us are falling,
But for the showers we plead.*

Charitable Gift Annuities

Asian Aid has teamed up with the Western Adventist Foundation to make faithful gift planning simple. Western Adventist Foundation on behalf of Asian Aid offers expertise in gift planning from consultation to implementation and management of your gift plan.

The Charitable Gift Annuity (CGA) is a popular way for our donors to provide income to themselves or their loved ones for life as well as to support the ministry of Asian Aid. The Charitable Gift Annuity is a planning tool that, at its heart, recognizes the fact that the rewards of giving begin with the desire to make a gift.

The Gift Annuity marks this decision with two things: the transfer of an asset from the donor(s) to the charity, and the signing of a contract in which the charity agrees to make payments to the donor(s) for life.

In addition to the satisfaction inherent in the act of giving, the CGA adds tangible benefits by providing an attractive income payment, with a significant portion of each payment being income tax free, and an immediate charitable income tax deduction for a portion of the gift. Your annuity payment is determined at the time your gift is made and will not fluctuate with the market.
